

A GOLDEN DISCOVERY.
The famous Kildare region is not all gold. Hundreds of prospectors drop and die of hunger and fatigue without ever finding the precious metal. Often the most precious things of life are found only after infinite exertion and discouraging search. Many a man and woman looking vainly for health almost drops by the wayside before the golden means of relief is at last discovered.

"About twelve years ago," says Dr. Copehaver, Reg. of Mount Union, Huntington Co., Pa., "I was suddenly taken with a pain in the pit of my stomach which was so violent I could not walk straight. It would grow more severe until it caused vomiting and vomiting of a slimy yellow matter. I consulted a physician and he told me I had a form of dyspepsia, and treated me for about six months with little benefit. I still kept getting so weak I could scarcely walk."

"I then tried another physician and he told me my liver was out of order and that I had indigestion. He gave me a treatment and I got some better but only for a short time. I then tried another one who said I had chronic indigestion, ulceration of the lining of the stomach, torpid liver and kidney affection. He treated me for more than a year and I felt much better but it did not last."

"I then took to using several widely advertised patent medicines, but received no more than temporary relief while using. I then tried Dr. Pierce's medicine, using his 'Golden Medical Discovery' and the 'Pleasant Pellets,' and in two months' time I was feeling better than I had for years before. I can truthfully say Dr. Pierce's medicine did me more good than any I had ever taken."

If you are one of those discouraged ones in the long and weary search for health, write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. He will send you friendly advice that will not cost you a cent.

For constipation, nothing is equal to Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

Jno. B. Wilson,
Attorney-at-Law
And Surveyor.
HARTFORD, KY.

SPECIAL attention given to collections and all kinds Surveying, making abstracts, etc. Also Notary Public for Ohio county. Office north side of public square.

G. B. Likens,
Attorney at Law
HARTFORD, KY.

Office next door to Hartford House. Special attention given to collections.

M. L. HEAVIN,
Attorney at Law,
HARTFORD, KENTUCKY

Will practice his profession in all the courts of Ohio and adjoining counties and Court of Appeals. Special attention to collections.

W. H. BARNES,
Attorney at Law,
HARTFORD, KY.

Will practice his profession in all the courts of Ohio and adjoining counties and Court of Appeals. Special attention to collections.

B. E. L. SIMMERMAN,
Attorney-at-Law
HARTFORD, KY.

Will practice his profession in all the courts of Ohio and adjoining counties. Collections carefully and promptly attended to. Office with T. J. Smith & Co., Market Street.

A. C. Taylor,
Attorney at Law,
Hartford, Kentucky.

Will practice his profession in Ohio and adjoining counties and Court of Appeals. Criminal practice and collections a specialty.

R. R. WEDDING,
Attorney at Law,
HARTFORD, KY.

Will practice his profession in Ohio and adjoining counties. Special attention given to collections. Also Notary Public. Office in Commercial Hotel.

J. B. VICKERS,
Attorney at Law
HARTFORD, KY.

Will practice his profession in Ohio and adjoining counties. Special attention given to collections. Office next to the Republican office.

SHELBY TAYLOR,
Attorney at Law,
HARTFORD, KENTUCKY.

Will practice his profession in all the courts of Ohio and adjoining counties and Court of Appeals. Special attention to collections.

E. P. NEAL,
Attorney at Law,
HARTFORD, KY.

Will practice his profession in all the courts of Ohio and adjoining counties and Court of Appeals. Special attention to collections.

GLENN & RINGO,
ATTORNEYS AT LAW,
HARTFORD, KY.

Will practice their profession in all the courts of Ohio and adjoining counties and in Court of Appeals. Special attention given to criminal practice and collections. Also Notary Public for Ohio counties.

C. M. Barnett,
Attorney at Law,
HARTFORD, KY.

Will practice his profession in all the courts of Ohio and adjoining counties. Careful attention will be given to all business entrusted to his care. Collections a specialty. Office over Ohio County Bank.

F. L. Felix,
Attorney at Law,
HARTFORD, KY.

Will practice his profession in Ohio and adjoining counties and Court of Appeals. Criminal practice and collections a specialty.

ADMIRAL DEWEY FOR PRESIDENT.

SAYS PEOPLE WANT HIM AND HE'S WILLING.

Politics Unknown—He's a Candidate for President on Any Old Ticket That'll Take Him.

MRS. DEWEY WILL BE THERE, TOO.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Admiral Dewey has authorized the announcement that he is a candidate for President. He says it is too early to say which party he expects to nominate him or upon what declaration of principles he expects his candidacy to be considered. One of his friends says that he is holding himself for the highest bidder and will be a candidate for whichever party holding out the biggest inducements.

It has been known here ever since the transfer of the Dewey home to Mrs. Dewey that the Admiral had it in his mind to become a candidate for the Presidency. That week he had the pleasure of hearing himself and Mrs. Dewey hooted on the street, and of knowing that his picture had been hung hundreds of letters asking for money back. These were from those who had been subscribers to the home fund.

THREATENED MCKINLEY.

Admiral Dewey thought this racket was raised by friends of the President, who were afraid that Dewey might be a candidate. In a rage he might be a New York Sun reporter that he would show those White House fellows whether he was a candidate for President. He said that Vanderlip, Heath and Corbin, all members of the Dewey Home Fund committee, were raising the row about the transfer to make him unpopular.

Dewey has been sorer than a boil ever since, and Mrs. Dewey has been sorer than two boils. She is ambitious to be mistress of the White House. She will not let up and it is thought she wants to drive him in the race whether he wants to or not. She is the master in the Dewey household. This is a well known fact in Washington society, and the announcement of his candidacy is traced directly to her.

The fact that the McLeans will support his candidacy will lead to the general conclusion that he is a Democratic candidate, but there is nothing more to be heard about.

MRS. DEWEY FOR SECOND PLACE.

On his recent trip to Wheeling, a friend of Admiral Dewey was chaffing him about his candidacy for the Presidency, but was surprised to find that the Admiral was taking the matter very seriously. The friend asked Mrs. Dewey if she approved of his candidacy. She said:

"I don't think there is any doubt but what the Admiral will be a candidate for the Presidency."

"Which party will nominate him?" she was asked.

"It makes no difference. He will be the people's candidate, and I think enough of the people will vote for him to elect him. It really doesn't make the slightest difference. The Admiral is a Republican, I am a Democrat, and for us, one party is as good as another."

When this friend was telling the story on the return he said there was no doubt about the Admiral's candidacy, and he said he was not quite certain but that Mrs. Dewey might be the candidate for the Vice Presidency. As to the platform, he knew nothing. Dewey was called up by telephone and asked if he was thinking of being the candidate of a new party, one which had no name yet, and he said he had nothing further to say.

HEALTH and beauty are the glories of perfect womanhood.

Women who suffer constantly with weakness peculiar to their sex cannot retain their beauty. Preservation of pretty features and rounded form is a duty women owe to themselves.

The mark of excessive monthly suffering is a familiar one in the faces of young American women.

Don't wait, young women, until your good looks are gone past recall. Consult Mrs. Pinkham at the out-start. Write to her at Lynn, Mass.

MISS EDNA ELLIS, Higginsport, Ohio, writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I am a school teacher and had suffered untold agony during my menstrual periods for ten years. My nervous system was almost a wreck. I suffered with pain in my side and had almost every ill human flesh is heir to. I had taken treatment from a number of physicians who gave me no relief. In fact one eminent specialist said no medicine could help me. I must submit to an operation. At my mother's request, I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham stating my case in every particular and received a prompt reply. I followed the advice given me and now I suffer no more during menses. If anyone cares to know more about my case, I will cheerfully answer all letters."

MISS KATE COOK, 16 Addison St., Mt. Jackson, Ind., writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I am by occupation a school teacher, and for a long while suffered with painful menstruation and nervousness. I have received more benefit from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound than from all remedies that I have ever tried."

THE MARKS OF SUFFERING

WILL PRACTICE HIS PROFESSION IN OHIO AND ADJOINING COUNTIES AND COURT OF APPEALS. SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO COLLECTIONS. OFFICE NEXT TO THE REPUBLICAN OFFICE.

WILL PRACTICE HIS PROFESSION IN OHIO AND ADJOINING COUNTIES AND COURT OF APPEALS. SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO COLLECTIONS. OFFICE NEXT TO THE REPUBLICAN OFFICE.

WILL PRACTICE HIS PROFESSION IN OHIO AND ADJOINING COUNTIES AND COURT OF APPEALS. SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO COLLECTIONS. OFFICE NEXT TO THE REPUBLICAN OFFICE.

WILL PRACTICE HIS PROFESSION IN OHIO AND ADJOINING COUNTIES AND COURT OF APPEALS. SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO COLLECTIONS. OFFICE NEXT TO THE REPUBLICAN OFFICE.

WILL PRACTICE HIS PROFESSION IN OHIO AND ADJOINING COUNTIES AND COURT OF APPEALS. SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO COLLECTIONS. OFFICE NEXT TO THE REPUBLICAN OFFICE.

WILL PRACTICE HIS PROFESSION IN OHIO AND ADJOINING COUNTIES AND COURT OF APPEALS. SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO COLLECTIONS. OFFICE NEXT TO THE REPUBLICAN OFFICE.

WILL PRACTICE HIS PROFESSION IN OHIO AND ADJOINING COUNTIES AND COURT OF APPEALS. SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO COLLECTIONS. OFFICE NEXT TO THE REPUBLICAN OFFICE.

WILL PRACTICE HIS PROFESSION IN OHIO AND ADJOINING COUNTIES AND COURT OF APPEALS. SPECIAL ATTENTION GIVEN TO COLLECTIONS. OFFICE NEXT TO THE REPUBLICAN OFFICE.

TRANSVAAL WAR NOT YET OVER.

PRESIDENT "OOM PAUL" SPEAKS FOR HIS PEOPLE.

Burgers are Battling for Liberty and are Determined to Fight to the End.

UNFULFILLED BIBLE PROPHECIES.

(Pretoria (S. A. R.) Cable News World.) State Secretary Reitz introduced me to the President this morning on the veranda of his modest home—that is, if I needed any introduction, for I had been presented to him three or four times before. He told him my mission.

Mr. Kruger instantly recalled that he had sent several cable messages to the New York World immediately preceding the war, and inquired:

"I sent a message to the World saying that the losses in war would stagger humanity."

"The British laughed at me and said they would only take a month to conquer us."

"Did those 650 dead at Spion's Kop and those hundreds who were killed in other battles, please the British?"

"Are they laughing now?"

"When you came through London did you see much laughter?"

I told him of the scenes in front of the London war bulletin boards—the weeping relatives and the sorrowing friends. He continued:

"Yes, that is only one side of the picture. Here we have the same scenes, only our casualties are not so great."

"Every home in South Africa has been desolated, and the war has only begun. Wait until the war is ended and those who will suffer on account of it will be numbered by the hundreds of thousands."

"Did Chamberlain and Milner and the capitalists who were back of them think of those things before they drove us to the wall? Are the tears of widows and orphans to pay for the gold fields?"

"BURGERS FIGHTING BRAVELY."

"My burgers are fighting bravely," he said, with much earnestness, "and they will continue to do so until Great Britain asks for peace or withdraws her soldiers. We cannot expect to conquer several hundred thousand men in a day, but my burgers are going ahead rapidly, as you can see by looking at the place where we keep our prisoners."

"Even as our forefathers fought against great odds in the Revolutionary War, so are we struggling, and even as God was with your people, so He will be with us. We have fought with England before and we defeated her soldiers, and we will be victorious again."

"My burgers are fighting for their wives, their children and their country, while those who are fighting against them are looking for medals, Victoria crosses and a shilling a day."

"My burgers are the best soldiers in the world because they do not receive a penny for their services."

"They fight with their hearts, and an army of hearts is invincible."

"So surely as there is a God of right, so surely will the Viekler of the Transvaal be victorious. It may be a month from now; it may be three years, but there can be no other end."

"When you have been successful," I asked, "what will you demand of Great Britain?"

"The reply came very quickly: 'We will demand nothing except that we shall be free and independent. We want no lands or ports; only let us have the country, which is ours by right, and we shall be content.'

"I and my burgers are willing to end the war to-morrow if Great Britain will say that we are thereafter wholly independent, and if she will guarantee that those Cape Colonists who have joined our army shall not be molested and that their property shall not be taken from them. We shall insist upon the last clause, because those men have assisted us and now we will assist them."

"We will not harm a shilling's worth of property, and if one of my burgers destroys anything, he will be punished. Why, at Dundee one burgler looted a store, and he was sentenced to six months' imprisonment. We are not thieves or looters. Those mines will be as safe as they were in the hands of the owners."

Up to this time he had introduced no Biblical quotations, of which he used scores upon every other occasion. I have spoken with him, but here he began by quoting Ezekiel xxxix, 1-17.

"In the Bible there is one, and only one, unfulfilled prophecy," he began, "and upon this we place our hopes of success in this war. The prophecy is: (Here the President began to quote from the thirty-ninth chapter of Ezekiel.)

"Therefore, thou son of man, prophesy against Gog and say, Thus saith the Lord God, behold I am against thee, O Gog, the chief Prince of Meshech and Tubal."

"The people of Gog are the English," said the President, explaining the comparison.

"And I will turn thee back and leave thee to the sixth part of thee, and will cause thee to come up from the north parts, and will bring thee upon the mountains of Israel."

"The people from the North are the English," said the President.

"And I will smite thy bow out of thy left hand and will cause thine arrows to fall out of thy right hand."

"I will give thee unto the ravens of every sort and to the beasts of the field to be devoured."

"The avenging (vultures) are thick upon the field," commented the President, smiling.

"And they that dwell in the villages of Israel shall go forth and shall set on fire and burn the weapons, * * * and they shall burn them with fire seven years, * * * and they shall spoil those that spoiled them and rob those that robbed them, saith the Lord God."

"The villages of Israel are the Boers," said the President.

"And it shall come to pass in that day that I will give unto Gog a place there of graves in Israel, the valley of the passengers on the east of the sea, and it shall stop the noses of the passengers, and there shall they bury Gog and all his multitude."

"The passenger was my Secretary Davis. He told me he held his nose when he went over the battlefield," said the President.

"And seven months shall the house of Israel be burying of them that they may cleanse the land. Yea, all the people of the land shall bury them."

"See! We have buried their dead by the hundreds at Spion's Kop and elsewhere," said the President. He had made remarks of this nature after every verse, and when he had finished quoting the Bible, and it is being fulfilled now. God knew that such things would come to pass, and we are His instruments."

"Five years ago the British said there was no room for more than one flag in this country, and now they are attempting to plant that one flag on the pile of dead who sleep it with their blood. Now England has put her feet in the mud, and I see her losing her boots."

"What will be the Free State's share in the results of the war?" I inquired, it being stated in English territory that the Free State is to secure Cape Colony as war spoils.

"The Free State will secure nothing more than her full independence, which is all we are striving for ourselves. There will be no spoils of war, for whenever England is satisfied to give us our independence, then we will withdraw to within our own borders."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

birds of every sort and to the beasts of the field to be devoured."

"The avenging (vultures) are thick upon the field," commented the President, smiling.

"And they that dwell in the villages of Israel shall go forth and shall set on fire and burn the weapons, * * * and they shall burn them with fire seven years, * * * and they shall spoil those that spoiled them and rob those that robbed them, saith the Lord God."

"The villages of Israel are the Boers," said the President.

"And it shall come to pass in that day that I will give unto Gog a place there of graves in Israel, the valley of the passengers on the east of the sea, and it shall stop the noses of the passengers, and there shall they bury Gog and all his multitude."

"The passenger was my Secretary Davis. He told me he held his nose when he went over the battlefield," said the President.

"And seven months shall the house of Israel be burying of them that they may cleanse the land. Yea, all the people of the land shall bury them."

"See! We have buried their dead by the hundreds at Spion's Kop and elsewhere," said the President. He had made remarks of this nature after every verse, and when he had finished quoting the Bible, and it is being fulfilled now. God knew that such things would come to pass, and we are His instruments."

"Five years ago the British said there was no room for more than one flag in this country, and now they are attempting to plant that one flag on the pile of dead who sleep it with their blood. Now England has put her feet in the mud, and I see her losing her boots."

"What will be the Free State's share in the results of the war?" I inquired, it being stated in English territory that the Free State is to secure Cape Colony as war spoils.

"The Free State will secure nothing more than her full independence, which is all we are striving for ourselves. There will be no spoils of war, for whenever England is satisfied to give us our independence, then we will withdraw to within our own borders."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

"We want no lands—we already have enough morgen (acres), and my burgers are not land-hungry, like the English people. We fight for liberty and independence; the English fight for land."

DR. MEADOR BUNCOED.

Met With Sharpers in New York City, and Will not go to the Holy Land.

Dr. J. W. Meador, a physician of Trisler, this county, started recently on a trip to Palestine and the Holy Land. He met with a misfortune in New York, however, which prevented him from continuing his trip. The New York Evening Post tells the following story of his adventures while in that city:

J. W. Meador, a physician of Trisler, Ky., according to his own statement, was robbed of $400 Saturday, having fallen into the clutches of bunco men in this city. Nothing proves the truth of his statement, except the confirmation of those who knew him during his short stay. But the fact that after he had lost by a bogus card game, all but $85 of the sum which he had saved for a trip to Europe, he redeemed his steamship ticket and returned sorrowfully to Kentucky, seems to indicate that his story is true.

Dr. Meador came on Friday, and registered at Smith & McNeill's Hotel. He was a physician, and well along in life, but he was also a lecturer, and he had $485, with which he planned to visit Palestine for lecturing material. He said he was a personal friend of Gov. Taylor, and showed a letter from Gov. Taylor. He claimed to have been once a member of the lower house of the Kentucky Legislature, and at another time a prospective candidate for Governor.

On Saturday morning Dr. Meador boarded a Broadway car to go to the office of the Canard Line. A pleasant-looking man followed him, and struck up an acquaintance, representing himself as Mr. Kenney, whom Dr. Meador recognized as a prominent business man of Frankfort, Ky. "Mr. Kenney" called him by name, and, after he had transacted his business at the steamship office, led him away to another office in the vicinity of Ann street, where, the man said, he could make an advantageous arrangement to exchange him a steamer ticket for cabin passage.

HOW THE GAME WAS WORKED. While the two men were there, a third, disguised as a drover, entered and explained how he had beaten the sharpers at "three-card monte." At this, the so-called Mr. Kenney confided to Dr. Meador that he would teach the drover a lesson, and producing a bank-draft for $2,000, borrowed $485 of Dr. Meador and proceeded to fleece the drover. But first he returned $85 to his real victim.

When the money had been laid on the table, a bogus officer rushed in and hurried both sharper and victim out of the office. The officer gave Dr. Meador the usual promise not to arrest him if he would leave the city immediately. The sharper consoled him for the loss of his money and gave him a London address, saying that he would make it right as soon as he could cash his draft, and the victim was left in the entrance of a large office building while his betrayer went out another door.

Dr. Meador reported his loss to the police and called upon the Mayor several times to protest, but having got as far as the Mayor's Secretary, was not permitted to go farther. Counting the $25, which was returned to him by the Canard Company, he had $110, which was not sufficient to set him across the ocean. Therefore, after staying all day and finding no help from anywhere, he left the city and went back to Kentucky. He was a bright but unsophisticated old country physician, and he said that his money was the result of much hard saving on the part of himself and his wife, with the particular object of a European trip in view.

Just as Good—Whenever a druggist tells you he has something "just as good" for coughs, colds, grip, etc., as Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey he is thinking of his profits and not of your welfare. Good druggists will sell you what you ask for, and you can ask for nothing as good as Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. Good druggists sell it.

Conditions Changed Since 1896.
(St. Louis Republic.)

The plans of the Republicans for the campaign of 1900 are said to include a tour by McKinley, with speeches from the tail end of trains. In 1896 Mohammed stayed at Canton and invited the mountain to come to him. In 1900 Mohammed